Making Your Christmas Merry and Bright

By BRENNA GRITEMAN
LIFE EDITOR

UPPER SANDUSKY —

If you've got 20 minutes and a Thermos full of hot chocolate, you've got the makings of the Christmas spirit.

Just add a nice, slow drive through Upper's Winter Fantasy of Lights.

The cheerful, twinkling display of Christmas-themed light displays has been an Upper Sandusky tradition since 1997. Its explosion in size and scope — from an original 10 displays and 2,700 vehicles driving through to today's 85 displays and upwards of 15,000 vehicles — is a testament to the volunteer-driven team behind the Fantasy, and the surrounding area's embrace of the display.

"On the weekends, if you're not here by 7 (p.m.), you're going to be waiting in line for some time," says committee chairwoman Pat Eyestone, noting that the display dazzles locals, while also attracting families from as far away as Columbus, Toledo and Mansfield.

For a suggested $5 per car donation, the Fantasy offers a 15- to 20-minute jaunt through the 33-acre Harrison Smith Park, just east of downtown Upper Sandusky.

Displays range from the traditional Manger scene, snowflakes, angels, snowmen and reindeer; to a brightly painted Grinch, Minions driving a sleigh, and Dorothy and friends making their way to the Emerald City. Most of the displays were lovingly made and donated by local 4-H groups, churches and businesses. This year, a local egg manufacturer has contributed a combine for the existing "Christmas on the Farm" portion of the park.

Eyestone says all of the displays, strands of lights and extension cords are stored in five semi trailers, the unloading of which is “quite an operation.”

Setup typically begins the last week of October, and the entire process of unloading and erecting displays, stringing lights, and manning the park during business hours is powered by volunteers. This massive volunteer effort allows the committee to use each year’s proceeds to support local charitable causes.

If all goes according to plan, based on the successes of the past few years, the committee estimates it will donate about $100,000 from this year’s Fantasy.

“We upped our ante this year,” Eyestone says, adding proceeds will be split among four worthy causes: Wyandot County 4-H, Wyandot County EMS, the Frank Shuleski for Youth organization and the City of Upper Sandusky parks system.

The Upper Winter Fantasy of Lights is open through Dec. 30. Hours are 6-9:30 p.m. Mondays through Thursdays; and 6-10 p.m. Fridays, Saturdays and Sundays.

Humans of Findlay is a documentary project based on the blog “Humans of New York.” The project was created to introduce many of the unique people of Findlay, Ohio. The man behind the lens and the project is Dave Morrow. Morrow has interviewed over 700 people of Findlay, ranging from age 5 to 102 years old, with a wide range of diversity and backgrounds. Jenna Wilkins has joined Dave in continuing the Humans of Findlay project.

On April 4, 2018, a proclamation was signed by Mayor Lydia Mihalik designating the day as “Humans of Findlay Day.” Each of the stories have been read up to 30,000 times, and can be located on humansoffindlay.com, Humans of Findlay Facebook page, as well as in this monthly magazine. Know someone that you feel should be featured? Send a nomination on the Facebook page.

JOANNE REINHART

Cancer. Just the word strikes fear in the hearts of people. It is merciless, invasive, does not discriminate against age, gender, race or socio-economic status and even if one survives the treatment, often they bear long term effects of treatment.

When the diagnosis is announced it is like a blow to the stomach. What now? What do we do? What treatment options are available? How do we afford this? And many more questions race through our mind as we search for answers.

This is where our next Human of Findlay steps in. Joanne Reinhart, is the face of Cancer Patient Services, located here in Findlay, serving all patients and family members of those cancer stricken here in Hancock County. She is a human angel, who has the official title of Patient Advocate, but her actions mean so much more to those she assists.

For many years she has been the calming influence to patients who come to CPS for answers, guidance and assistance. She has amazing compassion and keen listening skills. She also speaks with life experience as both her parents have battled cancer, her father with kidney cancer and her mother with cervical cancer.

“These are people coming to terms with their mortality”, Joanne explains. “I try to offer comfort, and also unravel the maze of finances and the healthcare systems. We provide direction, answers, financial aid, nutritional supplements, durable medical supplies and emotional support for as long as the patient and family desires our help.”

The agency assists over 2000 patients annually, with approximately 160 new patients added every year.

It is an emotional position and it is because of Joanne’s faith and support of her family that she is able to listen to the stories of her clients. She also exercises and runs to let the stress and emotion slip away.

She gets great strength from her family. She has been married to her high school sweetheart, Tom for 28 years. They have four children, Vanessa, Brandon, Austin and Anthony.

Joanne lives by the mantra, “We are never promised tomorrow. Live your best life now!”

DECEMBER 13 & 14 - JENERA

HANCOCK COUNTY HISTORICAL MUSEUM VICTORIAN CHRISTMAS

Create an unforgettable holiday memory by attending this authentic Victorian experience with a country twist! Each year, a unique historic home is selected by the Victorian Christmas Dinner committee for this special event. This year's selection is the Glick-Etler House located in Jenera.

The Glick-Etler home dates to 1853. Nathan and Lauren Etler have transformed this beautiful property since acquiring it just six years ago. The farm was settled by Lauren's great-great-great grandfather, Anthony Glick, who traveled to America from Germany on the Famous Dove in 1831. Because of the location and history of the house, this year's dinner will have a country Christmas theme, with a nod to German tradition.

Guests to the dinner will enjoy a magical experience along with a delicious meal. They will be greeted at the Glick-Etler home by coachmen and a butler. Guests may tour the home prior to dinner while enjoying old-fashioned "wassail" and appetizers. A four-course meal will follow. Each guest will enjoy a variety of traditional homemade "savories" following dinner, including sugarplums and pulled taffy. Christmas carolers and instrumentalists will provide entertainment throughout the evening.

Come experience this favorite annual event! The Victorian Christmas Dinner has become a treasured holiday memory for many. Limited space available. Cost: $95 for members, $110 for nonmembers. The dinner is hosted on two separate evenings starting at 6:30PM.

CHRIS MYERS

True heroes rarely seek the spotlight as they humbly serve others. Chris Myers is just such a man and superhero.

Chris grew up in both Van Buren and Findlay, while always attending Van Buren schools where he graduated in 2001. He is the oldest brother to Justin and his late sister Shanda, who passed away of a drug overdose in 2016. During his teenage years, life at home took a turn for the worse as his parents divorced. Chris and his siblings would end up in the custody of their father who was a verbally abusive alcoholic.

He met his wife Mandy at church. She was a lovely outgoing young lady who blended well with his very reserved personality. "Our differences fill in what's missing in each other's lives and we are definitely more whole together." They have now been married for over twelve years and have a sweet nine-year-old daughter, Tenley. (and three cats)

Two key events touched Chris's heart which led to his lifelong desire to lift the spirits of seriously sick children and their parents. When the infant son of close friends passed away due to a medical error in surgery, close friends and family were invited to the hospital to say goodbye to baby Tressel. "When Mandy and I went back, I walked into a scene that I could never imagine. While I'm sure there was anger and rage and devastating sadness, it was muted by love, grace, and faith of the parents."

Chris also began following the story of a young child known as "Kathrine the Brave," who would succumb to the inoperable and incurable pediatric cancer called DIPG. Chris was deeply moved watching Kathrine's mother blog about her fear, grief, desperate hope, her pain, moments of joy, and eventual devastation when Kathrine passed away. There is a DIPG research funding organization called The Cure Starts Now. Chris decided to use his Captain America persona and costume making appearances at parties and private events to raise donations for this cause. (The superhero side of Chris first emerged at Tenley's fifth birthday party when he dressed up in a cheap Captain America costume. "I saw how her eyes lit up. She loved it. There was such joy on her face.")

Chris was introduced to a group called Heroes 4 Hope based in Lima. The members dress up in various replica superhero costumes attending a wide variety of events benefiting children with various special needs or illnesses. Three years ago, Chris was invited "as Captain America" to participate in the Dayton Children's Hospital Superhero Day held every January. "Serving as Captain America in Heroes 4 Hope allows me to bring joy to a lot of children every month. Through this my desire to bring joy to children has grown."

"Some children at Dayton Children's have been there a few days, some a few months. There are a wide range of reasons children are there. Cancer, heart defects, various diseases; I've even visited burn victims there."

"Superhero Day is all about letting kids be kids for a day and help them forget about their illness for a little while. These kids and parents really light up when they see a small group of their favorite heroes walk in."

Chris doesn't stop serving children when the costume comes off. He volunteers weekly at Jacobs Primary as a lunch buddy. "It is has become a favorite hour of mine every week. Last Christmas he started "Shop with a Superhero" where Captain America and Spiderman took six children (selected by the staff at Jacobs) shopping. This year he has raised enough funds to take eight children shopping with a larger dollar amount allocated for each one. (Scheduled for December 14th this year.)

Even without a costume, Chris Myers is a superhero in my eyes. Dave
